

NISCL-CSCL Designation and MCIPS Designation

Canada's First Ever Dual Designation in Procurement and Supply

Become a Certified and Chartered* Supply Chain Leader

You become a Chartered Designation holder a year after you complete your MCIPS Designation.

Everything the Next-Gen Supply Chain Leader Needs

In One Applied Pathway

Earn Two Prestigious Designations in one journey

Achieve both the NISCL–CSCL and MCIPS designations through one applied, workplace-integrated experience — no duplicated content, no extra coursework.

Deliver ROI Back to Your Employer

Your final capstone project directly addresses a business priority — driving measurable improvements in cost control, supplier performance, or process efficiency.

No Exams. No Passive Learning

Skip traditional exams and academic theory. Every assignment is tied to your real work, real responsibilities, and real impact.

Not employed, but have experience?
Let's talk.

Fits Into Your Workday Not Around It

Structured program with only 10 days of live learning per year. Built with the working professional in mind.

Now with Flexible Payment Options

Whether self-funded or employer-sponsored, structured payment plans reduce friction and make professional growth accessible.

Join a Cohort of Strategic Peers

Learn alongside mid-to-senior professionals solving real challenges — and build a network that supports your growth long after the program ends.

"Applied Learning shifted my mindset from operational procurement to strategic leadership. It helped me formalize my experience and it gave me the tools and recognition to lead with confidence."

— Mohamed Elhag, MCIPS & NISCL-CSCL
